

Meeting Rooms and Legal Advice

Associations may rent the Library Hall at the Central Library and the rooms at the Citizen's Centre in Danasvej. The legal counselling service offers advice once a month.

Self Service also after Opening Hours

Lending and returning materials is done at self service machines. As a special service, there is also an outdoor delivery machine at the Central Library at the entrance facing Solbjerg Plads.

The Library - your information and culture centre

In Frederiksberg your local information and culture centre is never far away. You are free to choose between the three branch libraries and the Central Library, and using the libraries is free of charge. That also applies if you need to use a computer or the hot spots.

The library has all the modern media and the classics as well. Maybe you prefer finding the information you need on the internet. The library has access licenses to current great data bases and the librarians are your professional guides to knowledge.

Registration

When you want to register at the library in order to lend books or use a computer, you have to bring your health insurance card and an ID-card with a picture. (Please read the folder: Regulations).

Open libraries

The libraries at Danasvej and Godthåbsvej are 'open libraries' which means that you have access to them every day between 8 AM - 11 PM by using your health insurance card. Within the opening hours you may pick up the materials you have booked, return borrowed materials and make use of the different offers at the library.

Both libraries have brand new cafés where you can enjoy refreshments and a good cup of coffee. The cafés are open on weekdays between 10 AM - 4 PM.

Music, films, books, newspapers and much more

The Music Library has one of Denmark's largest collections of CDs, music videos, books and music notes. You may also get music notes through the internet. If you live in Frederiksberg, you may also download music completely legally through the Music Library at www.bibzoom.dk.

A large selection of Danish and foreign newspapers and magazines are at your disposal. Through Library PressDisplay you have online access to 1700 newspapers from 92 different countries in 48 different languages - from the library or at home. You will also find a wide selection of books in Danish and foreign languages. Novels which may give you great reading experiences and non-fiction books that contain much knowledge.

For Children

Small and older children may borrow funny, wise, and interesting books, jigsaw puzzles, play and learn language material, Playstation and computer games, music, films, and stories on Cds.

Book a Librarian

The librarians will be happy to guide you and find information for you. If you have big or time consuming questions (also on using the IT facilities) you can book a librarian for half an hour. Moreover, we offer short crash courses on how to use e.g. the internet, send e-mails and use borger.dk.

Peace and Quiet - and Inspiration

The library is also the place, where you may find room for absorption or meet other people and find inspiration. At the Central Library there is a reading room and in the centre of the novel department you may find the Literary Square with soft chairs.

Experiences

The library hosts cultural events for children and adults e.g. author evenings, lectures, films, concerts, book clubs, children's theatre, the Baby Library and other offers for the family.

Sound Paper and reading machines

Easy-to-read books, talking books and books with large writing are available to everybody. Citizens who find it very hard to read or may have turned blind can subscribe to the Sound Paper with local news from Frederiksberg free of charge, and they may also use the recording and reading machines at the library free of charge.

Delivery

The library offer delivery of books etc. to elderly and handicapped people in the district of Frederiksberg.
